

An

I Spy in the Dark

Book

PENELOPE NIGHTFLOWER

and her Magical Spell

By Helen Kwok & Chad Toprak

Written by Helen Kwok & Chad Toprak

Illustrated by Helen Kwok

Some images and fonts sourced from Creative Market and Pixabay

© 2020 Hei Man Helen Kwok

Hei Man Helen Kwok

Master of Animation, Games & Interactivity (MAGI)

School of Design, RMIT University

Melbourne, Australia

There once was witch named Penelope Nightflower,

Who needs to prepare a spell by the hour.

Five different sounds from animals of the night,

Who live in the forest hidden in plain sight.

Using her magical torch
to collect each sound,

She shines it on the MOON and starts looking around.

A majestic OWL with eyes of the wise,

Its haunting hoots
ring loud in the skies.

A slippery FISH , quick as a flash,

Leaps out of the water and lands with a splash.

A tiny FROG sings
and waits by the creek,

The rhythm of its croaks,
so gentle and unique.

A lone WOLF howls,
its silver fur glows,

Under the moonlight,
it strikes a pose.

A nimble RABBIT dashes
across the forest floor,

It pauses momentarily,
pops up to explore.

Her ingredients found,
a joyous end to her quest,

Penelope Nightflower
returns home to rest.

An

I Spy in the Dark

Book

The I Spy in the Dark book series are physical hidden object games where readers use a real torch to find the hidden objects in the diorama while following the story.